SCILL (SCIO) welcomes Dyslexia Routes founder Sharon Hall who will be running a workshop for parents and professionals in two parts.

The first workshop on Tuesday 3rd March will concentrate on explaining Dyslexia, its characteristics and how it is experienced. Sharon will explain how dyslexia affects learning and how you can support your child. She will also cover sources of help for parents/carers and professionals.

It will be followed by another workshop on Tuesday 10th March which will cover strategies for use at home and school and how to work collaboratively with your child's school.

This is also an excellent opportunity to meet like-minded people and have all those questions answered in a relaxed environment.

The cost is £5 per person for one workshop and £7.50 per person if both workshops are booked. Places are limited so please email admin@scill-aberdeenshire.org.uk or call 07913 326816 to book.
